As 2019 comes to a close we prepare for a powerhouse 2020, starting with the conjunction of Saturn and Pluto next month. This month Jupiter shifts gears as it moves into Capricorn to join Saturn and Pluto in this most pragmatic of signs. This month too the Solstice rolls around once again, plus we have a Solar eclipse on Boxing Day.

Just a final reminder to order your 2020 calendars before Xmas.

Wishing all subscribers a happy a peaceful holiday season and my very best wishes for the coming year.

GEMINI FULL MOON

Venus is the meat in the sandwich, between Saturn and Pluto. This is likely to be a potent Full Moon for shifting alliances. This is an uncompromising Full Moon where we will firmly adhere to our personal standards and the opinions that stem from our values.

Situations and people we have tolerated, will no longer be tolerated. We draw a line in the sand with this cosmic sandwich.

This Full Moon could be a pivotal one for Donald Trump's presidency and may signal the end is nigh. The Sun and Moon are closely aligning with his Sun, Moon and Nodal axis. He is also in the firing line of the Saturn-Pluto (and Venus) alignment which opposes his Saturn and Venus. His Mercury is taking a direct hit from the transiting North Node, which suggests that karmic forces are at work to overhaul his verbal antics. (See bi wheel above.)

tough transition for many people, with personal health issues taking centre stage for a year or more. Now that Chiron moves forward, off this cusp area, things should start to improve.

Meanwhile, Mars and Uranus are still within orb of opposition, so take extra care to avoid accidents and mishaps, especially with silly season upon us.

Chiron stations direct now after a long haul moving over the first few degrees of Aries. This has been a

CAPRICORN SOLAR ECLIPSE

The sign of Capricorn could hardly be more potent right now. Apart from the huge line up of outer planets there, we now have the Sun and Moon united in a solar eclipse.

This eclipse tracks a path across Asia, and in particular Indonesia.

Saturn and Pluto are now within two degrees of their exact conjunction, which will take place on 13 January.

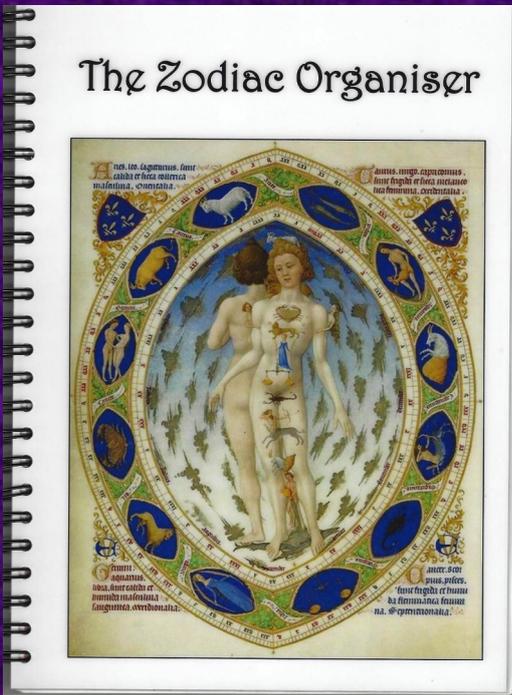

The Sun and Moon are making a trine aspect to Uranus, providing opportunities to escape from the limitations of the powerful Capricorn alliance.

Saturn gives us form and structure but Saturn-Pluto is often an aspect of hardship and harshness. Fortunately at this point in time, Mars in Scorpio is making a sextile to Saturn and Pluto so if there are any looming difficulties that you are finding stressful at present, there are avenues to take affirmative action that may help to pave the road forward in smoother asphalt making it easier to traverse.

SOLSTICE & 2020 PREVIEW

Mars in Scorpio is making a tight sextile aspect to Saturn and Pluto providing an avenue for releasing tension. The powerful tightening aspect between Saturn and Pluto is closing in on exactness.

This conjunction has not happened in the sign of Capricorn since January 1518, which was when Martin Luther's theses of complaint against the church was translated, published and circulated throughout Europe, kick-starting the Reformation.

Capricorn is an ethical sign, although it is also pragmatic. Political power shifts and challenges to power and authority are indicated.

Jupiter's recent ingress into Capricorn brings the focus to political truth. With the ongoing absence of truth in politics, this ingress will highlight this problem and help to redress this systemic issue.

Solstice and Equinox charts are active for the quarter, so the next three months provide an opportunity to express our frustration in creative outlets.

In many ways 2020 is a transitional year. Pluto is nearing the end of its journey through Capricorn, and by the end of 2020 Saturn and Jupiter will shift into Aquarius, making a conjunction at the very start of the sign of the water-bearer. This is a pivotal shift towards a more humanitarian and holistic world-view.

Over coming years the sign of Aquarius will be a key feature of life, with Pluto also moving into Aquarius in a couple of years time. Meanwhile, in 2020, Venus and Mars will both spend some time retrograde, so there is the potential for delays and setbacks to halt our progress especially mid-year. Over the coming year try to exercise patience and spend quality time restoring your inner balance.
