Finally the political situation in the US is offering us all a more rational future. But the health crisis there is massively out of control. It will take a long time to recover and heal. There are still some tough astrological factors ahead especially the US Pluto Return, which is already shaking the foundations of their Democracy.

This month we will witness the long awaited Jupiter-Saturn conjunction as both planets transition into the progressive sign of Aquarius. The Jupiter-Saturn cycle is a 20 year cycle, but these two planets have not formed a conjunction in the sign of Aquarius since the year 1405. That was around the time of the advent of the Renaissance.

There is a sense of rebirth now too. Change is in the air. But we will have to adapt to the new social systems that are set to emerge.

As 2020 comes to a close we can be hopeful that 2021 will prove to be a better year. There will be challenges ahead, but there will also be opportunities to rebuild and create a future based on a new framework of revised values and a sense of social justice.

SAGITTARIUS NEW MOON & SOLAR ECLIPSE

This December 15 New Moon is a total solar eclipse that will be visible in Chile and Argentina. The eclipse path crosses large sections of the South Pacific and South Atlantic.

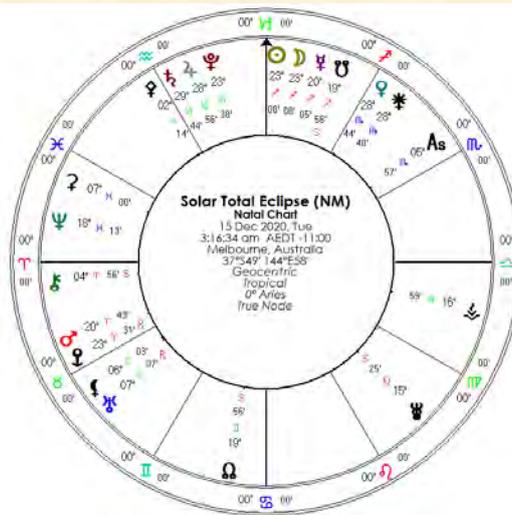

Note that the path of any solar eclipse travels from west to east, across the Earth due to the relationship between the Moon, Earth and Sun.

The Sun and Moon are making a trine to Mars and Eris, helping us see some of the positives to come out of the recent trials we have endured.

As Jupiter and Saturn close in on their conjunction, they are about to leave the Capricorn realm. This eclipse marks the end of an era as well as the start of a new one.

All Solar eclipses allow us to see things in a new light, as the light of consciousness and the mysterious unconscious realm merge as one.

The alignment of the South Node and Mercury speaks to a new mindset, or at least the capacity to regroup and set a new agenda, however the square to Neptune could see additional confusion or uncertainty, along with more conspiracy theories.

Neptune in Pisces has for some time now been undermining our faith across the board. It has created an alternative reality that many people have decided is something they can believe in. But Neptune in Pisces is a function of the imagination, it should not be confused with reality.

Venus and Vesta in Scorpio make a positive and outgoing sextile to Jupiter/Saturn again highlighting the potential of the society new era we are about to enter.

On the whole this eclipse opens a portal to a fresh attitude and agenda. Sagittarius has a broad viewpoint and understanding. This eclipse fuels an openness to change and a willingness to engage with new ideas and social concepts.

CANCER FULL MOON

As Venus aligns with the South Nodal Axis on December 30, it ends the year with a quiet note for reflection. It reconnects us to our core values and principles.

Some astrologers talk about the South Node in negative terms; that it symbolises what we need to abandon and that we should instead strive towards the symbolism of the North Node.

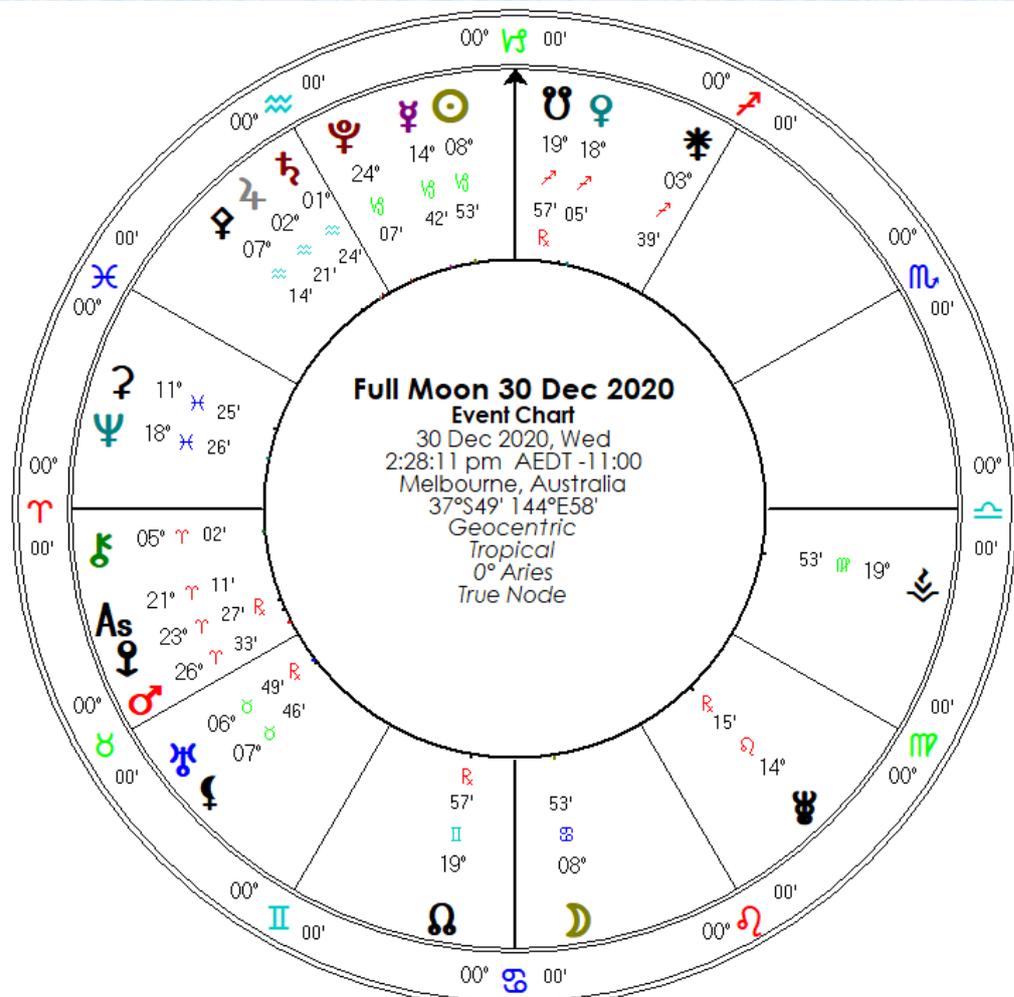

While the North Node may represent something to strive towards, I'm not convinced that the South Node should be discarded. Its sign and planets nearby are as-

The South Node is a place where we are comfortable and secure and able to draw upon inner resets. Venus brings more awareness to our intrinsic values, both personal and spiritual. It's a time to embrace our principles and those who share them. It could also be time to establish a new set of values that better serve us, and let go of any connections that do not.

As this year comes to a close, this is the perfect time to reflect on the past and consider the future.

Jupiter and Saturn are offering us a new path forward, a different social agenda and a fresh set of possibilities. Aquarius is a key feature of coming years, bringing revolutionary and widespread change. A more progressive agenda based on science, truth and knowledge is dawning.

SOLSTICE

The JUPITER SATURN CONJUNCTION is a key feature of this solstice chart. Saturn shifts in to Aquarius on the 17th followed by Jupiter on the 20th. The exact alignment takes place on the 22nd, just hours after this Solstice.

Saturn and Jupiter will work together to implement a socially progressive agenda.

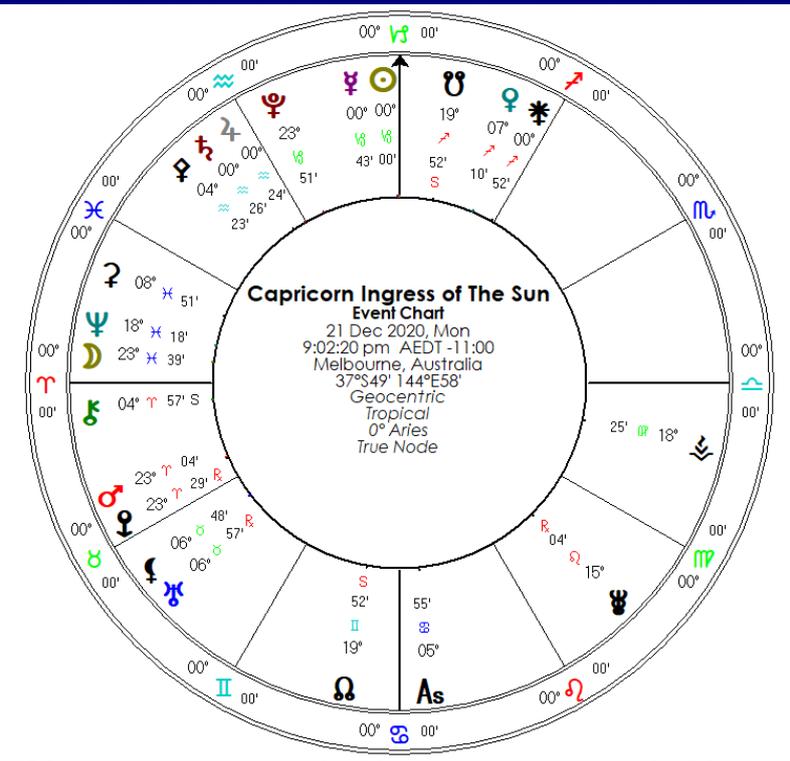

Aquarius themes abound over coming decades. The future is dawning and Aquarian influences founded on scientific truths are coming to the fore.

The conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn in Aquarius last took place in the year 1405. Jupiter and Saturn link up every 20 years, but it has been over 600 years since they met in Aquarius.

This Solstice chart has Mars and Eris in a tight square with Pluto, an aspect that has been in play for many months and which symbolises the havoc we've seen unfold throughout 2020. This is the final pass of this square, but as it is still active in this Solstice chart we may see continued unrest and pain for the next several months.

Mercury is in a tight conjunction with the Sun, asking us to use critical thinking in decision making. The tight semi-sextile the Sun and Mercury make to Jupiter and Saturn is a key feature of this Solstice chart.

Semi-sextiles force us to evolve, to move ahead and to look to the future. This arrangement is taking us forward, but also out of our comfort zone, broadening our horizons as we face an uncertain future.

As Saturn, ruler of Capricorn shifts fully into Aquarius, we are embarking on a new reality that we can consciously create if we have the capacity to think outside the box and learn to adapt.

There is no going back.

The originality, principles and social reforms that are coming will mean inevitable clashes with the status quo throughout 2021 as Uranus and Saturn will be squaring one another, but as we know, change is never easy.
