our ability to focus, but can be a bit obsessive at times. Vesta injects a lot of passion into whatever we are focusing on.

It seems that this Full Moon may be polarising, but also bring opportunities to reach workable compromises going forward. Communicating our needs and sharing feelings will encourage healing pathways and positive results.

Pluto's proximity to the Moon along with Ceres in opposition describes the need to reach compromises and find consensus. Give and take are part of this discussion, as in the mythic tale, Pluto and Ceres (Hades and Demeter) had to reach a settlement in their

This 32-page astrology calendar is suitable for those who are new to astrology, students of astrology and the professional astrologer.

It includes an introductory section on astrology basics that explains the meaning of planets and signs. An easy reference guide, it examines prevailing astrological conditions and suggests ways to take advantage of opportunities as they arise. For professional astrologers this calendar replaces the need to constantly refer to your ephemeris. It provides easy access to relevant astrological data for general daily use. It also includes planetary information that is not found in ephemerides, such as lunar perigees, Supermoons, key positions of Venus and more.

CHARTS IN THE NEWS

Hearings in the US are underway into the 6 January Capitol riots and Trump's role in the insurrection. Trump has recently had his 76th birthday. This is his 4th Metonic cycle return.

Every 19 years the Sun and the Moon return to the same zodiac degree, give or take a small orb. Charts for the Metonic cycle return at ages 19, 38, 57 and 76 can have significant astrological features. Some examples are covered in my recent book, The Test of Time. Whether at age 19, 38, 57 or 76, stationary planets in these return charts seem to be incredibly potent.

Using my system of stationary orbs, Trump has a total of five stationary planets in his birth chart. This is the most I have seen in any birth chart I have examined and may account for his many issues.

Transiting Saturn is opposing his Mars and Ascendant, so he is being confronted by reality. Saturn opposing Mars can be incredibly frustrating. Often one feels boxed in, and given his natal Mars is on the Ascendant, he will be feeling very hot under the collar. Since it is apparent that he has very limited awareness of reality and of Saturn's themes, these hearings and the restrictions he is encountering from others, are likely to be highly stressful.

During the hearings he has lashed out saying the process is rigged and calling it a witch hunt.

We also see transiting Mars and Chiron at 15 Aries, which are opposing his stationary Juno, Chiron and Jupiter. This suggests possible health concerns, or the potential for the pretence of health issues as a way of avoiding proceedings. Transiting Jupiter is also opposing Neptune, so his tendency to twist the truth to his own agenda is enhanced. Jupiter is also crossing Eris.

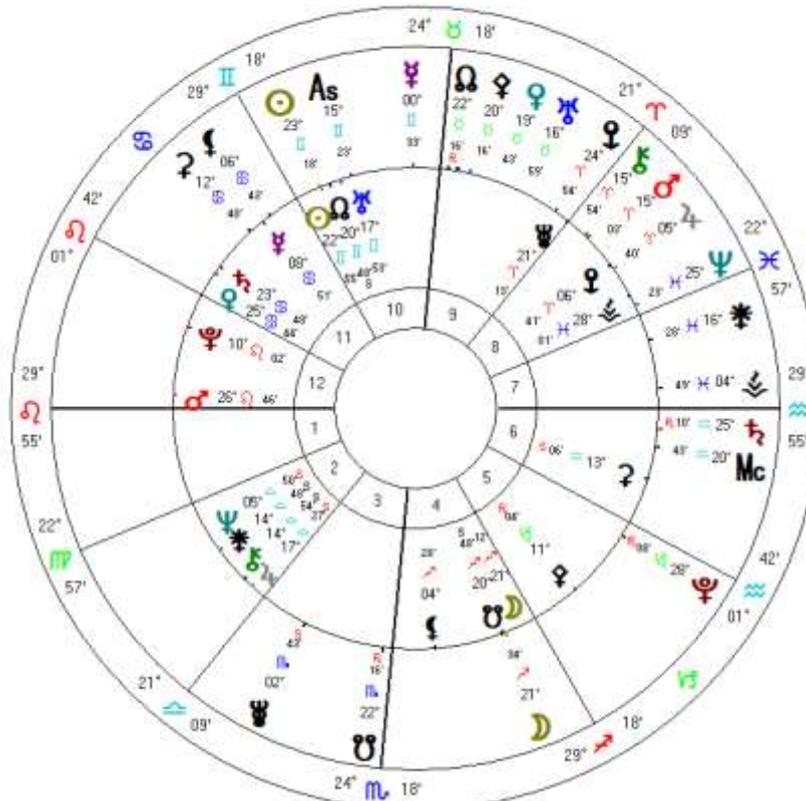

Transiting Hygiea was almost completely stationary on his birthday in June and suggests health issues too.

Stress can always impact our wellbeing, and can have an impact on our physical health. For Trump, having to face up to reality would be incredibly stressful as he has not shown any capacity to understand the reality of his election loss.

The transiting North Node recently crossed his Midheaven, with transiting Uranus on the way to that location within 12 months or so.

Transiting Neptune has been squaring his Sun, his Moon and Nodal axis, and will cross these degrees again over coming months, so a complete break with reality is a distinct possibility. His mental and physical health is under significant pressure.

Leo new Moon

The key feature at this Leo New Moon is Jupiter which stations retrograde. Jupiter is always trine the Sun when these stations take place, and this aspect and its station amplifies the influence of Jupiter.

ability of accidents, so it would be wise not to engage in highly risk activities that could result in an accident.

unsettling energy around this 29 July New Moon.

Juno stations retrograde on 26 July, and I have noticed that she features in a number of charts of major accidents and disasters, so the last week of July is tricky, with Mercury squaring Uranus, Mars and the North Node also generating some

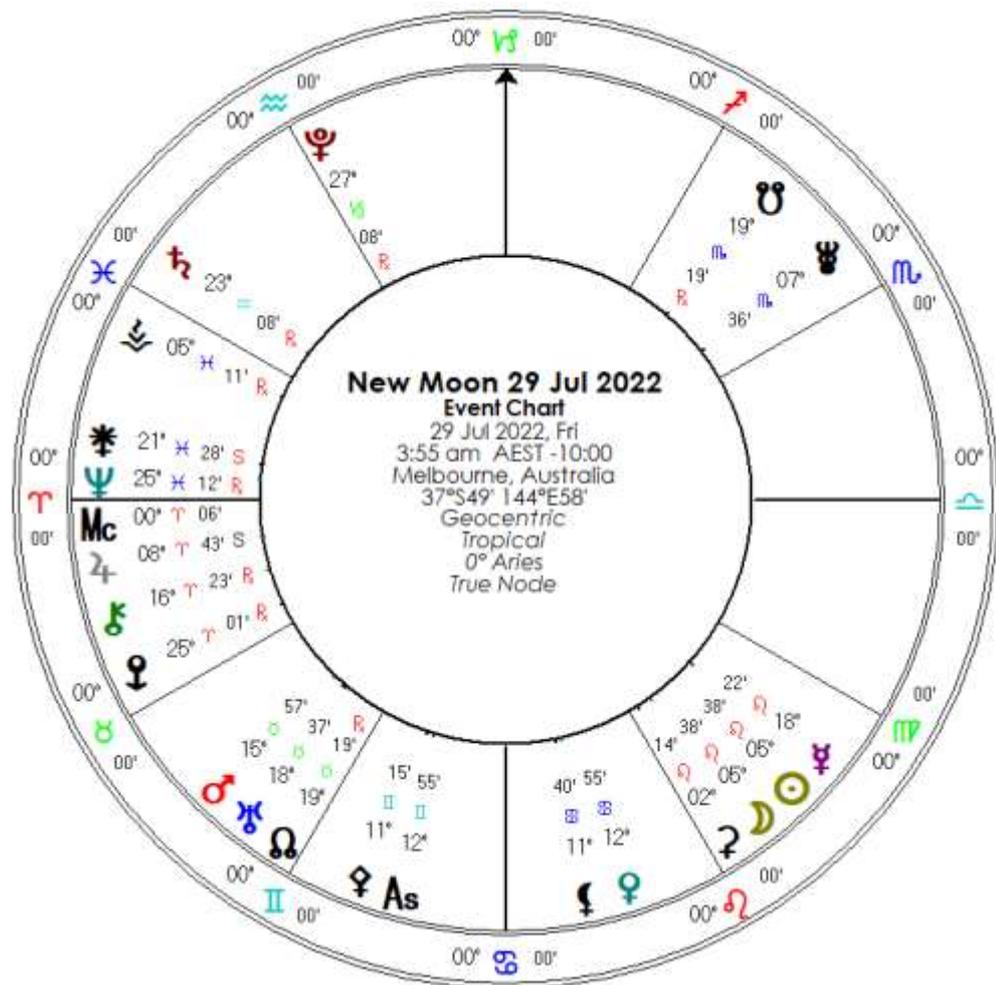

On a positive note this is quite a creative New Moon, and can be used to venture into new exciting directions, to try different mediums and launch into uncharted settings, but I would advice caution.

Avoid anything physically risky especially if you have not attempted it before.

This is especially the case now because the fire element elevates the potential for exaggeration and over-reach.

Stationary Jupiter can be prone to hubris and so too is Leo. This can also be a jovial and happy time, but Jupiter can be larger than life and can be given to risky behaviour.

Mars and Uranus are close to the North Node which reveals the pos-

How should we interpret motionless planets? What kinds of challenges and opportunities do they symbolise?

Packed with a host of fascinating case histories of well-known people and events, The Test of Time documents the phenomenon of stationary planets, including a range of dwarf planets and asteroids.

This book details my research into the 32-year cycle of Venus and Mars.

The symbolic connection between the celestial lovers is mirrored by their interaction as metals copper (Venus) and iron (Mars). This passionate exchange creates life on this planet and has immense impact across social settings and generations.

Asteroids

There are countless asteroids in the belt between Mars and Jupiter, so there is no point in placing them all in a given chart.

However, because of the predominance of masculine or yang archetypal gods, making room to include the main four female goddesses, Juno, Athena, Vesta and dwarf planet Ceres, creates more gender balance.

I also include Hygiea. Hygiea was the 5th asteroid to be discovered and is actually bigger in size than Juno.

Hygiea is a bit like a feminine or yin version of Chiron and is associated with healing, and is where we get the word hygiene.

Juno was the wife of Jupiter and is known for her loyalty to her husband. She was also very vengeful in her reactions to those who her husband seduced.

Athena, or Pallas Athena, was born from the head of her father Jupiter/Zeus. She is known for her mental acuity and cleverness and is associated with wisdom. She is the archetypal favourite daughter.

Vesta was a virgin goddess and is very self sufficient and self contained. She is known as the goddess of the hearth and is the origin of the word 'focus'. Those with strong Vesta have the ability to concentrate effectively, but can be prone to isolation and have the potential to become obsessive.

Ceres is the archetypal mother who as Demeter in the Greek tradition was so upset by Hades abduction of her daughter Persephone, that she stopped the earth from producing any crops. The barren earth was eventually restored when a compromise was reached.

Persephone then had to spend part of the year with her husband and part of the year with her mother.

Interestingly, this compromise is reflected in the decision to classify Ceres and Pluto as dwarf planets, which now have equal status in the solar system hierarchy.

This is just a sample of the many functions of these asteroids. There is lot more to discover...
