OCTOBER 2023

Another month has swiftly passed by. Before we know it, 2024 will be upon us. This time of the year is often a time of ending and beginnings. Scorpio season brings a season of transformation. In the northern hemisphere this is autumn/fall when life retreats underground, and in the southern hemisphere we experience the full rebirth of spring.

Recently, we witnessed the end of an era in Victorian state politics with the resignation of premier Dan Andrews after nine years (half a nodal cycle) in the top job. He's having his Chiron Return, so too is our new Premier, Jacinta Allan. This is her noon chart.

LIBRA NEW MOON/ECLIPSE

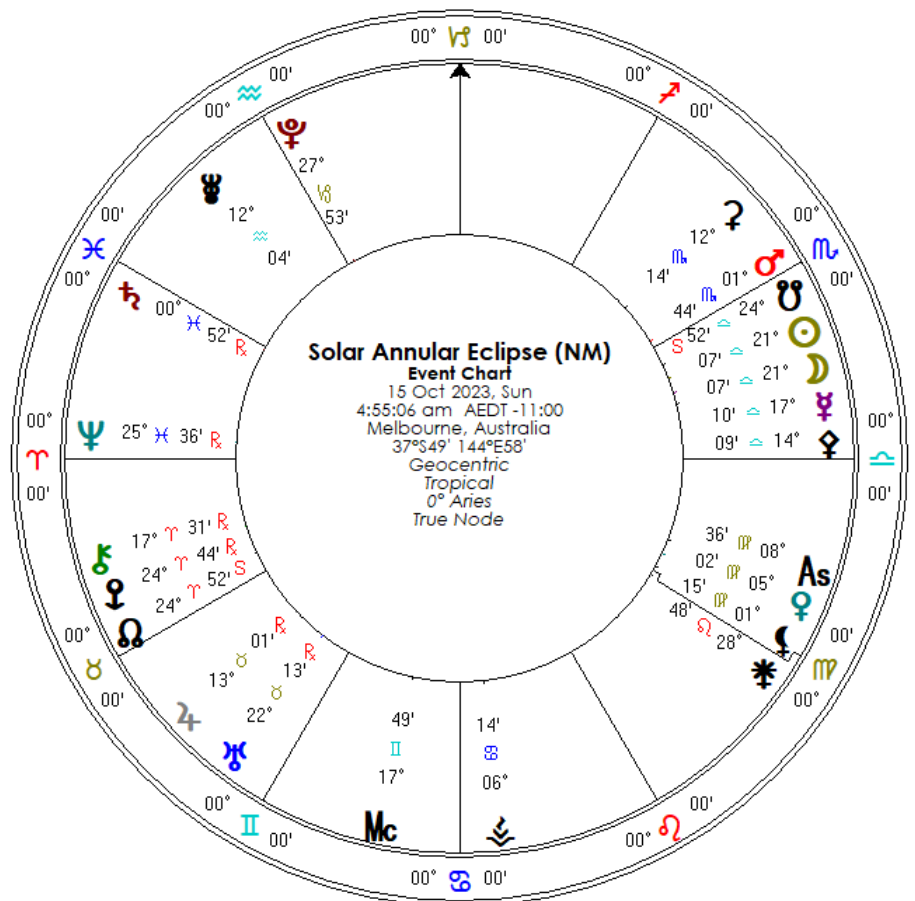

Eris is named after the goddess of strife and discord, the possibility of increased seismic activity and she aligns with the activity. In the US Sibly chart, Chiron North Node at this Solar Eclipsion is at 20 Aries, so this region could be impacted by a collective wounding event such as a major earthquake, though this is in no way certain. This powerful eclipse also sees Chiron involved with Sun, Moon and Nodal Axis.

This is an Annular eclipse, which is the type of solar eclipse that occurs when the Moon doesn't completely cover the solar disk. The Moon appears slightly smaller than the Sun, due to its distance from Earth. When the Moon moves across the face of the Sun, it leaves a ring of sunlight around its edges.

This eclipse path crosses North and South America. As with all power-

A range of significant events can accompany a solar eclipse.

This 32-page astrology calendar is suitable for those who are new to astrology, students of astrology and the professional astrologer.

It includes an introductory section on astrology basics that explains the meaning of planets and signs. An easy reference guide, it examines prevailing astrological conditions and suggests ways to take advantage of opportunities as they arise. For professional astrologers this calendar replaces the need to constantly refer to your ephemeris. It provides easy access to relevant astrological data for general daily use. It also includes planetary information that is not found in ephemerides, such as lunar perigees, Supermoons, key positions of Venus and more.

TAURUS FULL MOON

The Nodal Axis is still aligned with Eris at this partial lunar eclipse, sustaining the power of the recent solar eclipse.

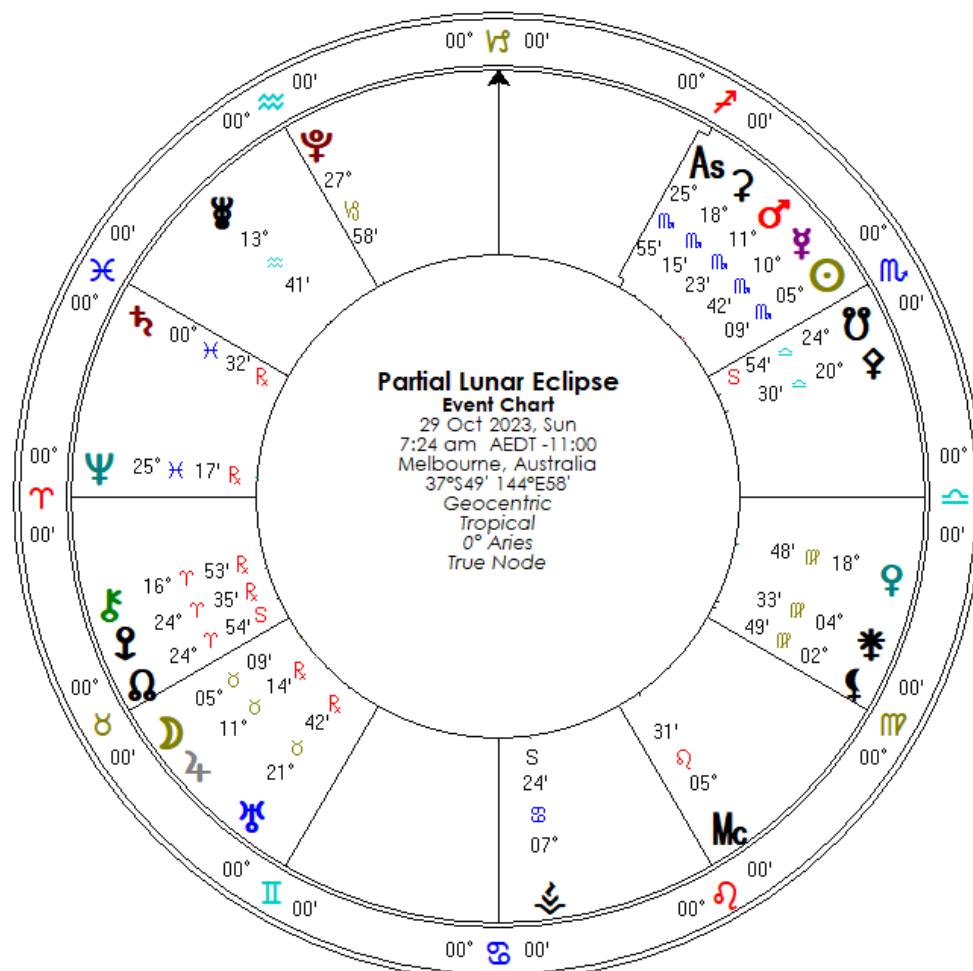

Fortunately, Jupiter is helping to negotiate a settlement to any ongoing disputes. Jupiter opposes Mercury and Mars, opening up a dialogue between opposing points of view. This could divide opinions, and lead to heated verbal exchanges before the dust settles, but the Full Moon and Jupiter will be close to one another, which will help to bring about harmony and goodwill. If disagreements continue, we might just have to agree to disagree.

With Mercury and Jupiter so tightly opposed, those who see the big picture and those who are focused on the fine print might not be able to reconcile their differences. With this opposition and the Full Moon happening in fixed signs, there isn't much room for flexibility, but those with vision and awareness can use this aspect for gaining clarity.

Venus is happily in trine aspect with Uranus so this should help us to understand alternative values, even if we don't agree with them.

While this partial lunar eclipse might deliver some relationship tension, allowing others some free rein will go a long way to calming frazzled nerves. Try to keep things on an even keel and not overreact.

CHARTS IN THE NEWS

THE VOICE REFERENDUM

The original inhabitants of Australia are not recognised in the Australian constitution. Making this change is a way for all of us to recognise Indigenous Australians and their history. This recognition will importantly make a positive difference to their lives and their futures.

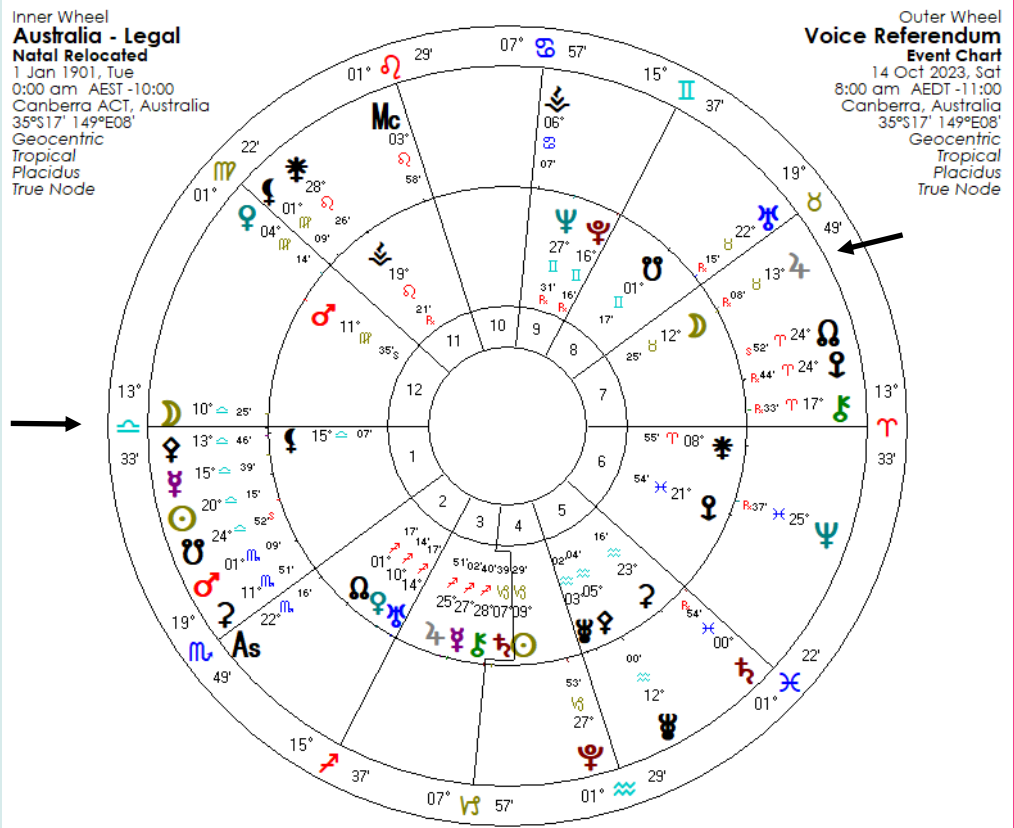

Sadly, mostly due to a negative fear campaign, opinion polls have consistently shown that the referendum will be defeated. However looking at Australia's 1901 Federation charts, the astrology suggests overwhelming support for change.

There are a couple of different charts for Australian Federation on January 1, 1901. In the legal chart for Australia which I personally prefer, the Moon is located at 12TA25. Transiting Jupiter is less than a degree away at 13TA08.

In any national chart, the Moon represents the people of the nation. Due to the influence of Jupiter, there is likely to be a positive response to the question of an Aboriginal Voice to Parliament.

If we use the Sydney based chart, the Moon is located at 20TA25, which is being transited by Uranus at 22TA15. This also suggests that the people of Australia are seeking change and will support the Aboriginal Voice to Parliament. This recognition is long overdue.

Whichever chart we use, indications are that the coming referendum will succeed and will alter the Australian constitution so that indigenous people will finally have a voice. I hope so.

This book details my research into the 32-year cycle of Venus and Mars.

The symbolic connection between the celestial lovers is mirrored by their interaction as metals copper (Venus) and iron (Mars). This passionate exchange creates life on this planet and has immense impact across social settings and generations.

FIRE, EARTH, AIR & WATER

Planet Earth is in crisis. The recent fires in Greece and floods in Libya have been devastating, especially so because they have happened in regions where infrastructure and resources are limited.

This time last year, large parts of Australia were underwater. Two years before that we had the worst fires in our history. Now we are looking at the return of El Nino and a hot dry summer could spark fires once more. Disasters like floods and fires are becoming more frequent.

The elements fire and water seem to be out of control. These two elements are associated with right brain activity such as art, music, and intuition, which are largely undervalued in today's world.

Human activity promotes earth and air left-brain concerns such as business, logic, reason, money, and the material world. These have dominated the creative intuitive right brain functions for generations.

This imbalance has spawned climate change. As we have destroyed the earth and polluted the air and water, the elements themselves are acting out. They are fighting back against us.

What can we do about this?

We need to repair the damage. We should be planting trees, minimising consumption of resources, and helping to clean up our planet, but of course this is easier said than done.

As we enter the Pluto in Aquarius era, new technologies are being rolled out that have the potential to change systems from old polluting ways to new cleaner options.

One of the functions of Aquarius, is cleansing. February, when the Sun is in Aquarius, comes from a root word that means purification.

Aquarius is a fixed air sign, but it also has the capacity for change and innovation. It's a thinking sign, but also a creative one. Aquarius is an air sign, but contains water in its symbolism. We can use Aquarian energy to cleanse and clean up our world.

Possessing both air and water in its symbolism, Aquarius has the potential to wake us up and shift long standing processes that have become entrenched.

Pluto in Aquarius is arriving whether we are ready or not. A new kind of industrial revolution is already underway. One of the coming advances is hydrogen technology which is well into development now. The only bi-product of hydrogen vehicles is water.

Using hydrogen gas (air) with the only output (water) is in keeping with the symbolism of Pluto in Aquarius.

The technology already exists, but the infrastructure is lagging behind.

Electric vehicles might be all the rage, and touted as the answer to climate change, but they result in a lot of battery waste and the depletion of resources.

I am hopeful that hydrogen will replace existing technology and lead us to a cleaner world.
