There's always an amazing array of planetary aspects and celestial events underway. This month is no exception. The Aries solar eclipse on 9 April is a supermoon and what's more Chiron is at the exact degree and minute of the Sun and Moon! The involvement of Chiron guides us towards healing initiatives and insights. Whether we are dealing with trauma, accidents, illness or issues associated with ageing, physical and emotional healing are inter-connected. This Aries Solar eclipse is a rare opportunity for deep-seated healing.

Jupiter and Uranus join forces on 21 April. This conjunction only happens once every 14 years, so take advantage of any opportunities for advancement. Some surprising developments are in store. That same day Chiron is once again highlighted as it unites with Venus. If you feel uncomfortable about the suddenness of events, take time to consider your options and your responses.

ARIES NEW MOON-SOLAR ECLIPSE

This is a potent New Moon. Firstly, it's a total solar eclipse, plus it's a supermoon and to top it off, Chiron is at the exact same degree and minute as the Sun and Moon!

The path of totality will cross Mexico, the US and Canada.

Chiron's involvement speaks to the desire for healing. Given the conflicts gripping the world at the present time, it's a hopeful sign that peace and healing will soon commence, but wounds always take time to heal.

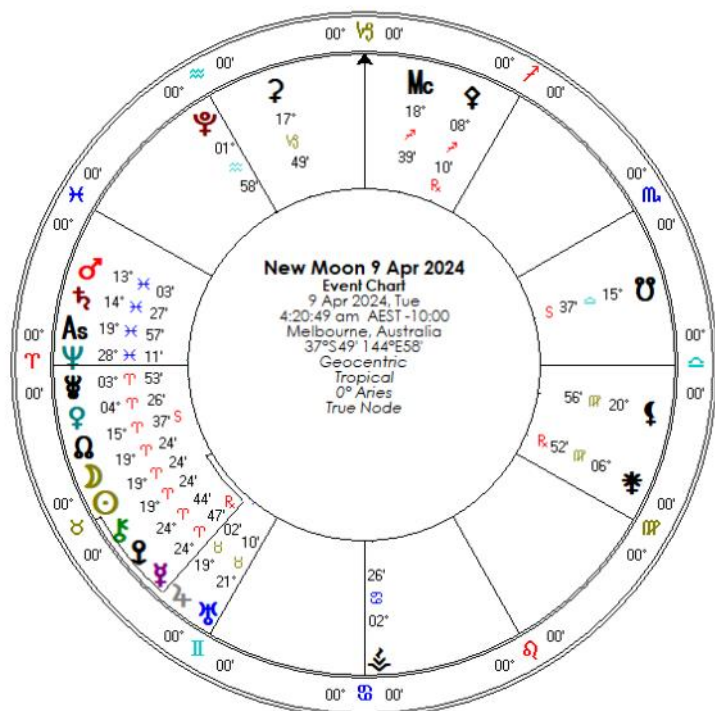

With Chiron at the exact degree and minute as this eclipse, we might also see major advances in the health sector.

Mars and Saturn are closely aligned in Pisces, and could still enforce a hard-line approach, but as this conjunction is in Pisces, hopefully this aspect will encourage a new set of rules, guidelines and borders that reflect the compassion and universal understanding for which Pisces is known.

There is also positive input coming from Jupiter and Uranus who are about to reunite. This union will take place on 21 April. Jupiter and Uranus share an interest in advancement. In Taurus, this conjunction could have positive financial benefits for farmers and those on the land and could deliver technological breakthroughs that help the environment as a whole.

The recent government enquiries into supermarket prices here in Australia reflects the symbolism of this conjunction in Taurus, and could bring about a new set of standards and guidelines that benefit primary producers and customers.

SCORPIO FULL MOON

This is a powerful Full Moon. It's located in passionate Scorpio, plus it also squares Pluto, Scorpio's modern ruling planet. Fixed squares are especially intense.

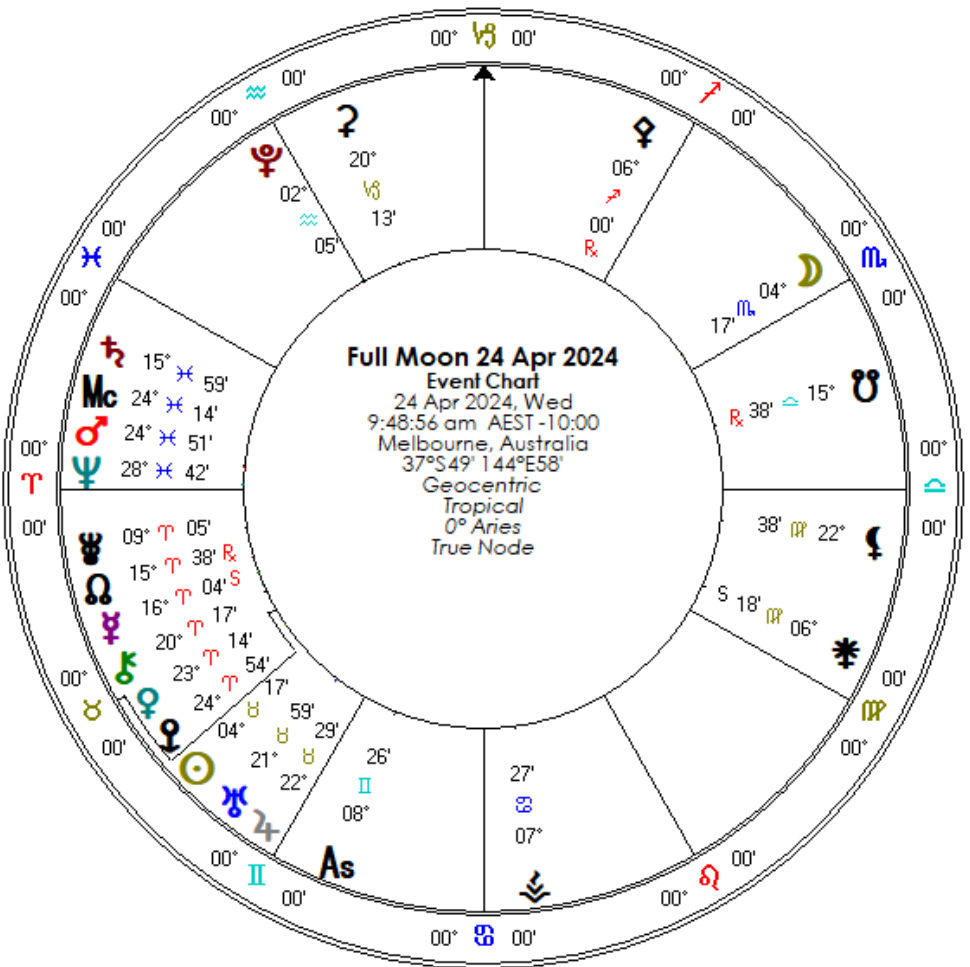

Mercury stations and turns direct about now, while making a conjunction to the North Node. This intensifies Mercury's message urging us to focus on communicating effectively. Long-term objectives are front of mind and anything we might have overlooked is likely to become more evident. When Mercury is stationary, it guides us to communicate what is most important. Given there is a fixed T-square of Sun-Moon-Pluto, there are likely to be some very entrenched opinions and loud voices vying for attention.

Jupiter and Uranus have just reunited so the innovative and exciting potential of this aspect is still in effect.

Stationary Juno and retrograde Athena are in a tight square so there could be some tense discussions around our loyalty to others versus being loyal to our own ideas and opinions.

KATE MIDDLETON

Following her abdominal surgery, there was a lot of media speculation about Kate Middleton's health. No official announcement was made until recently when she has confirmed that she has been diagnosed with cancer and is undergoing treatment. She spent two weeks in hospital.

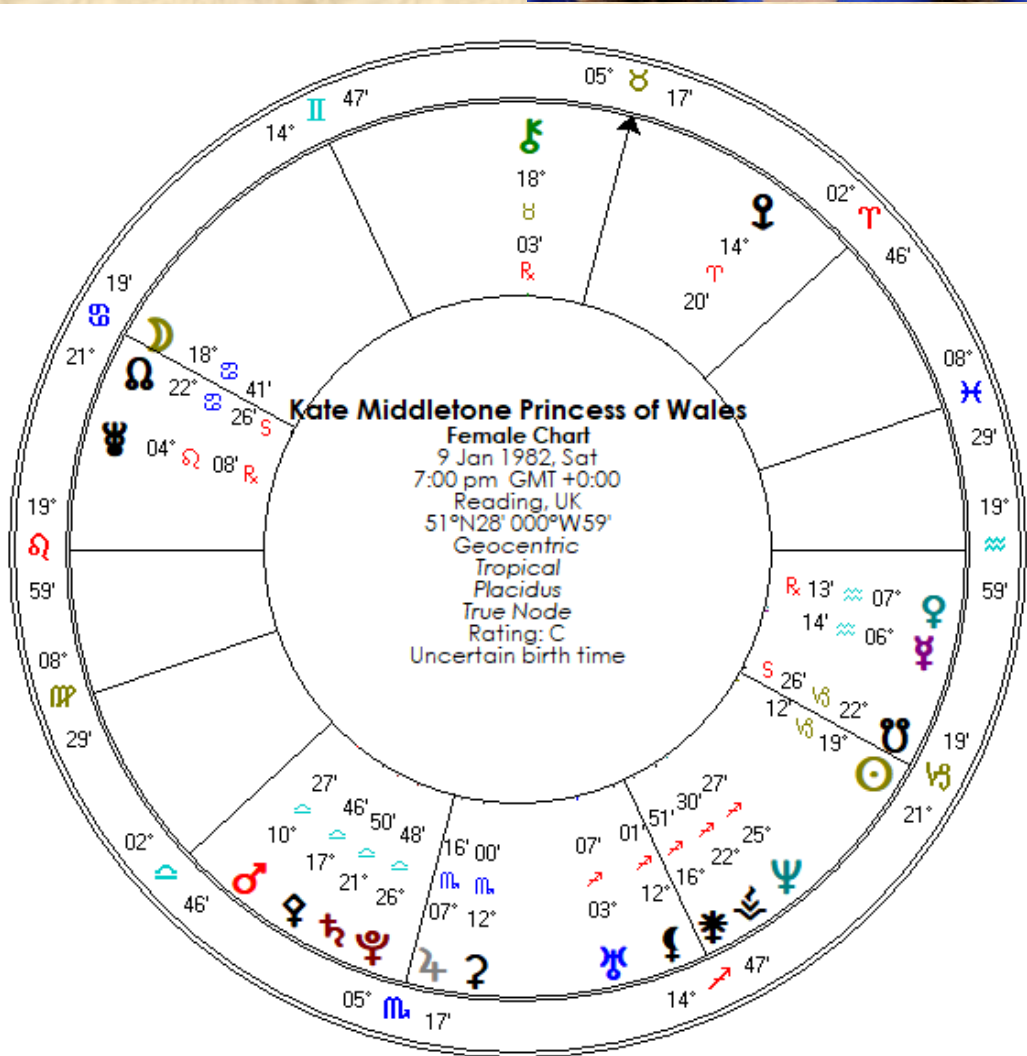

Kate has her natal Venus retrograde conjunct Mercury in Aquarius. A retrograde evening start Venus tends to be more private and introspective than the morning star Venus type. It must be very difficult for a private person to be constantly the subject of media speculation even at the best of times, let alone while dealing with a serious health matter. Wishing her well.

We don't have confirmation that 7pm is her birthtime, but there are some points worth noting in this chart. The Sun and South Node straddle her 6th house of health and the Moon opposes it. The Sun rules her Leo Ascendant (assuming this birth time is accurate).

This month's solar eclipse along with transiting Chiron at 19AR24 is exactly square her Sun/Moon/Nodal axis, and it's close to opposing her Saturn, so this is a really tough time for her.

Kate is 42, and she is therefore in the midst of a host of midlife transits. Neptune square Neptune is always a bewildering transit, that can leave us feeling all at sea. Energy levels are often low, and so too is enthusiasm. We often feel disillusioned. She has not yet experienced her Uranus opposition, but she has had her Pluto square. Her Saturn opposition is still to come.
